

Why you should build the one on the right.

They may look the same, but these homes are really quite different. You see, the one on the right is an Energy Star® home. That means it was designed and built to maximize energy efficiency and comfort, and help improve the environment. In fact, you'll save 10 to 15 percent on monthly energy bills. And all the energy expertise you need to build an Energy Star home is free. For more information, just call 1-800-228-7764.
